ULBN to Showcase 'Exotic Collection' at Beautyworld Dubai, Offering a Comprehensive Plant-Based Ritual for High-Performance Radiance

DUBAI, UAE — Conscious clean beauty brand ULBN has announced the upcoming showcase of its highly anticipated Exotic Collection for Beautyworld Dubai 2026. This curated product family unites three of the brand's most advanced, high-performance formulations into a complete wellness ritual designed to target hyperpigmentation, skin aging, and environmental damage from head to toe.

While each product is available individually, the Exotic Collection represents ULBN’s ultimate expression of luxurious, plant-based performance. The collection features a targeted face cream alongside two advanced body formulations, allowing retail buyers and distributors to source a complete, ready-to-market premium skincare routine:

- Amazonian Face Cream: The flagship of the collection, specifically engineered to eliminate dark patches, age spots, and hyperpigmentation. Enriched with pure Shea Butter and a potent blend of Vitamins C and E, it creates a non-greasy anti-pollution shield that reveals a firmer, visibly brighter complexion.
- Triple Exotic Body Butter: An ultra-rich, deeply emollient treatment that unifies the moisturizing forces of raw Mango, Shea, and Kokum butters with cold-pressed Avocado Oil. This formulation actively fights aging signs, improves elasticity to reduce the appearance of stretch marks, and infuses the skin with an antioxidant shield and a calming lavender aroma.
- Blueberry Hydration Body Lotion: A lightweight, superfood-powered daily moisturizer that combines Blueberry Butter, Jojoba Oil, cell-repairing Kiwi Seed Oil, and mineral-dense Seaweed Extract. It delivers intense, weightless moisture lock and utilizes Omega-rich fruit oils to repair cell structure, soothe sensitive skin, and boost natural elasticity across all seasons.

Aligned with ULBN’s strict environmental commitment, all three products in the Exotic Collection utilize ethically sourced ingredients, fair-trade practices, and premium eco-friendly glass packaging. Beautyworld Dubai attendees, commercial distributors, and beauty editors are invited to test the textures, explore the botanical ingredients, and discuss regional distribution rights for the full collection at the event.
